

PASTEURIZATION CAMPAIGN SUPPORTED BY AUTHORITIES

Support for enactment of legislation calling for compulsory pasteurization of milk throughout Canada, advocated in a nationwide campaign by the Health League of Canada, has come from many prominent medical authorities.

Following are a few recent comments:

"The maintaining of the status of crude milk means the maintaining of semi-medieval conditions of hygiene."

Dr. Armand Frappier

"Raw milk is the greatest danger to public health today."

Dr. Gordon Bates

"Pasteurization is the most practical, economical, simplest and surest way of getting pure, non-contaminated milk for children."

Dr. Calista Pavreau, of the Hospital for Sick Children in Toronto in 1915 not a single case of milk-borne infection has entered the doors of this hospital when the sole source of milk has been Toronto pasteurized milk. This is a sufficient evidence to indicate the safety of universal pasteurization."

Dr. Alan Brown

"Pasteurization of all milk sold for human consumption is essential to the health of our people. It can be achieved quickly by public opinion."

Dr. Howard Spohn

A LOST ART

Since the coming of the war, from 1939 to 1945, many of the old events of our life will have been forgotten, but there is sure to be one that will be remembered by young and old alike.

If we reminisce it will no doubt sound like a fairy tale, but say 10 years ago about this time of year, there was a great hustle and bustle in our schools making preparations for the annual school festival that would be held in Wainwright in the late spring.

Why this event, that was so all important then, has been dropped, we are at a loss to say. It surely should not be placed on the war casualty list, which it no doubt will be if action is not started to revive it.

We are fully aware of the many hours of hard work that was put into such an event as this by pupil and teacher alike, but one fact that cannot be denied, is that it was greatly supported by the public at large and was well worth every ounce of energy that was put forth.

True enough, just at the present time there is a serious shortage of teachers, with many schools having to make the best of the situation with supervisors, but this will be remedied in time leaving no argument there.

It is forcibly cried in some circles that the competitive spirit is being gradually replaced in our school system, that it has been found obsolete and lived its usefulness. This may be the case, but we are of the opinion that a Musical Festival does not altogether fall into this category, and that it would serve some usefulness in the making of better citizens for the world of tomorrow.

When the annual musical festival was in full swing, many an amount of money, in the form of donations, time, cups and shields, were expended by the different towns people. What has become of these shields and cups, we do not know, but one thing that we are certain of, is that they are not being used for the original purpose that they were intended.

Since the time of the last festival, our school system has changed greatly, and with the jurisdiction now brought under one roof, in one office, this would elevate a lot of the old difficulties that were a natural headache to many a person having anything to do with the affair.

We are really of the mind that the strain that has been placed on our educational facilities during the war would not have permitted the staging of festivals. However, now that the war is over and things gradually becoming normal again an annual musical festival should be a MUST on the top of the list of "Things To Be Done."

Wainwright was at one time one of the few centres that staged such events, and it made such a noticeable impression in the whole of the province that all roads led to town. Many a dignitary has made his abode in Wainwright for two days because of the festival.

Certainly there is no better way to advertise our town in a better light than through the medium of a musical festival, for to cultivate the fine arts, is to create life in its fuller and finer form.

We would appreciate other peoples views on the subject as maybe we have the wrong information and may be on the wrong road.

We are not laying the blame anywhere, or on any group, but it does seem a shame that Wainwright can not have its legiti-mate stage for one or two nights of the year, putting us on par with other centres of equal or smaller size, in the province.

What do you think?

Grateful Albertan

Writes T.B. Assoc.

Many Albertans are increasing their subscriptions for Christmas Seals this year and in this way are expressing their approval of the work of the Alberta Tuberculosis Associations.

Typical of the attitude of most people is the letter received at Association headquarters from a northern Alberta merchant:
"Replying to your letter of the 17th I note your request for an increased donation this year. My first impulse was to send the usual two dollars, but on reflection, remembering the free chest X-ray that each member of my family received during the summer, and the neighbor lady who went to the sanatorium, and is now progressing nicely, I enclose herewith my check for $5.00 wishing that I could afford to send you many times that amount."

$50,000 is the Alberta objective for 1946. Indications are that this sum will be realized before the campaign's close, but receipts are still many thousands short of that figure. Most people are prone to put off sending their donations. They are urged to "do it now."

Canadians are dying of tuberculosis at the rate of sixteen persons a day. This is a sheer criminal waste, for tuberculosis is a disease which can be conquered. Do your part to bring it under control by buying Christmas Seals.

About 750 children under 15 years of age die of tuberculosis each year in Canada. Christmas Seals support education programs in high schools, which include X-ray surveys to detect tuberculosis in its early stages.

When the Canadian Tuberculosis Association was organized in 1900 there were fewer than 30 hospital beds for tuberculous patients in Canada. Today, there are 12,000.

The tuberculosis death rate among Indians in Alberta is fifty times as high as among white people.
Seven times as many unskilled workers die of tuberculosis as professional people. The disease kills three times as many unskilled laborers as skilled workmen.

A DEEP SECRET

A lank, disconsolate farmer, stood on the steps of the town hall during the progress of a political meeting.
"Do you know who's talking in there now," demanded a stranger briskly, pausing for a moment beside the farmer.

"Our Member of Parliament is talking in there."

"What about?" asked the stranger.
"Well," continued the farmer, passing a knotted hand across his forehead, "he didn't say."

LATEST CHRISTMAS SEAL RETURNS

Christmas Seal provincial receipts today reached $66,000, according to T. L. Ferguson, President of the Alberta Tuberculosis Association.
This sum is 20,000 higher than at the same date last year.
Provincial objective is $90,000. Mr.
Ferguson pointed out, Gratifying though the present total is, it leaves $24,000 still to be raised.

While the total in the nation-wide sale has not been announced, Mr.
Ferguson said indications are that Alberta's increase is higher than in any province except Ontario.

"Of the money raised in Alberta," he explained, 90 percent will be spent right in the province for tuberculosis control, the other ten percent will go to the Canadian Tuberculosis Association for supplies, educational material, etc.

Until the $90,000 objective is acquired the Association plans cannot be completed. Citizens are urged to send their contributions at once, if they have not already done so. They may be sent to the local committee, or to the Alberta Tuberculosis Association, 340 - 7th Avenue West, Calgary.

WAR BROUGHT THIS TRAIN OF THOUGHT

From Montreal comes a veteran's own story of his reorientation after service in this war. It is in the form of a letter written to the Unemployment Insurance Commission, Department of Labour, by Jean Paul Pessant.

Its contents read, in part:— "I have received your letter asking me the reason I did not go back to my former employer, after having received a permit on the day I was discharged from the service. For this, let us go back to 1939.

"At that time I was working for my father on the farm. Though I did not like it very much, I felt I had to because my father's deafness made it difficult for him, and my brothers were too young and inexperienced to sell our products at the market.

"After the harvest and ploughing were finished, there was not enough work for four persons, so I worked for my cousin's firm part-time, just to make some pocket money.

"After I went overseas, I took various courses, clerical, English, wireless and mathematics—courses which I found of very great interest.
When I finally did return from the Continent I had new aptitudes for office work, and I had no wish to go back to my cousin's business and work as I had before.

"During my free time, I sought information as to where I could put my studies to practical use, and through Selective Service learned there was a position open to a veteran at the National Harbours Board.
I applied at once and was accepted.
I have been there since. After years of hardship overseas I feel I am on my way to a better, happier life."

CANADA
Russell L. GIBSON
and Robert REEDS

The newest and latest thought in the subject of airports for small towns comes from Northwestern Quebec and Northern Ontario where instead of each town building or arranging for the building of an airport all on its own, a number of towns are planning to get together on the subject.

Realizing that any one town in that part of Canada has little to gain from a single airport, plans are underway to arrange for simultaneous building of airports in Timmins, Kirkland Lake, Rouyn-Noranda and Val d'Or, with encouragement to other smaller towns in the area to build smaller landing strips.

The idea came from the fact these northern centres with rapidly expanding populations and cut off from Toronto and Montreal by lengthy rail journeys realized that no airline would serve just one of them.

As a result plans are under way for a Northern Air Conference to be held shortly in Val d'Or and to be held as a business conference.

In the past many Canadian air-conferences have been held from time to time, and while much useful information has been passed around there has been little result in the way of concrete action.

In the case of the conference scheduled for Val d'Or the entire town councils of each of the larger towns is expected to attend with the specific purpose of making definite decisions concerning airport construction in the spring.

This conference will provide a pattern, will provide successful experience and mistakes which can be taken into consideration by other parts of Canada when regional conferences are planned.

A chain of small airports for town in British Columbia, for instance, might result in a provincial conference there with definite decisions.
If several small airports can be built in a single area aviation will multiply in usefulness. There will be many more opportunities for aviation jobs for veterans wishing to run air taxis if there is some place to which they can taxi.

PARTIDGE SQUADRON

Viking, Alta.—A Canadian National Railways' engineer, M. McMillan, is telling an unusual story of an encounter with a flock of Hungarian partridge. Near Viking, Alta., a number of the birds swooped down and hurried to death against the side of his engine.

However, one, with deadly accuracy, went through the cab window, struck the engineer in the left eye, then with hardly a pause, disappeared through the opposite window.
Regretful at not capturing the bird, Mr. McMillan would rather have a tasty partridge on the family platter some mealtime day to confirm his story than the bandage he now wears over his injured eye.

Hints for the Household

SAVE THE FAT

One role which busy homemakers play is that of "kitchen police" constantly on guard to reduce all waste to a minimum. This is particularly true in the case of fats.

Fat is a necessary ingredient in the preparation of many foods. Fat is a precious commodity. None must be wasted.

Pie shells made from cookie dough are new and interesting. If you do serve pies make them open face and save the top crust.

Toast croutons in a dry pan in the oven. Use biscuit dough to cover meat or chicken pie.

Never let the fat smoke. Smoke means burning or breaking down which results in waste. Keep all fat cool. If left in a warm place it will become rancid or sour. Use dripping from roasts, broiled meat or poultry in making sauces for scalloped dishes, cheese dishes or in creamed soups.

A few suggestions for saving fat come from the kitchen of the Consumer Section, Dominion Department of Agriculture.

Buttermilk Sticks
1/2 cup chicken fat
1/2 cup brown sugar
1 egg
1/4 teaspoon vanilla
1 1/4 cups pastry flour OR 1 1/8 cups all-purpose flour

SATISFYING AND SAVORY
Today, as always, women are seeking tasty main course dishes that are not only economical but also healthful, savory and pleasing to the family.

Here we have exactly that kind of a dish. In this special combination, cereal adds its own characteristic flavor and texture; while at the same time it furnishes important vitamins and minerals.

Dash of pepper
Combine beef, Grape-Nuts Flakes, salt, pepper, onion, Worcestershire sauce, and milk. Shape into 8 rolls. Brown in fat. Cook cabbage leaves, covered, in small amount of boiling salted water until wilted. Wrap each meat roll in a cabbage leaf and fasten with toothpicks. NEW CAR LICENSES
READY ABOUT MARCH 15
New motor licenses for the license year which opens on April 1 probably will be available around March 15, according to information which the Alberta Motor Association has received from the provincial authorities.

As the federal gasoline rationing system has been abandoned, there will not be the same amount of work involved in handling the motor license application this year. During the war period, the "AA" coupon books were issued at the same time that the provincial motor license was taken out. Consequently the issuing of licenses was undertaken earlier to take care of the extra work involved.

Provincial officials feel that there are prospects for many new motor licenses being taken out in the new year. People who laid up their cars during the war will be driving again and there are prospects of many new car owners, especially returned servicemen.

On the whole, prospects indicate that the 1946-47 year will be one to record a big gain in motor licenses in the province.

GAS INCREASE
Wartime Tax Should Be Dropped
Ottawa Advised

Disastrous effects on the farmers, truckers, motorists and inhabitants of Alberta were foreseen by James Cleave, provincial president of the Alberta Motor Association, Saturday, if the proposed increase in the price of gasoline goes into effect in Alberta.

In a telegram to Prime Minister W. L. Mackenzie King, copies of which were also sent to J. L. Baily and Donald Gordon, he declared the "proposed increase create an alarming prospect."

Writing in behalf of the Alberta Motor Association he told the Prime Minister that "reduced instead of increased prices are desirable."

"While the increased price of crude oil, recently approved, may justify increased charges on the part of the oil companies such increases should not, under present peace conditions, have to be borne by the consumers," the telegram stated.

"They should be offset by the immediate repeal of the present three cents per gallon Dominion war tax which was imposed solely as a war measure."

"Such repeal," the telegram continued, "would enable producers of gasoline to obtain their increased cost of two cents per gallon while at the same time giving a reduction of one cent per gallon to all consumers."

"Gasoline taxes which are in themselves discriminatory as applying only to motorists, can be justified only by corresponding highway expenditures for the benefit of road users and their continued imposition for wartime purposes is entirely unjustified now that the war has ended," the wire concluded.

Smilin' Ed is Still Smilin' Smilin' Ed McConnell, the Farmers' Friend has often been asked how he broke into radio. Here are the real facts:

On a memorable night 'way back in 1921, when radio was just beginning to be born, Lambdin Kay and Bonnie Barnhardt, announcer and program director respectively of station WSB, Atlanta, Georgia were passing the studio floor, teasing their hair and muttering violently because certain persons billed to broadcast that evening had failed to appear.

Into the midst of this hair-tearing party, walked two unsuspecting visitors from Newman, Georgia. One of them was Ed McConnell, and his companion, "How about letting him get on one of your programs a little of everything?"

"Looks like a lifesaver" said the harassed station officials. "He's probably punk, rotten and putrid but we're sunk anyway, so let's take a chance."

No sooner said than done. And before he quite guessed what was happening to him, Mr. McConnell was being protestingly shoved into the studio and introduced to an unsuspecting audience without further ado.

Realizing it was up to him, Big Ed nobly took the bull by the horns and plunged in. Before the first song was over, phones were ringing and in a little while telegrams were rolling in. He was a sure-fire hit from that night on.

He told his listeners how he was forced on the program, unprepared, and had them laughing with him at his embarrassment. He jollied them along and made them feel that he was "a-settin' right 'thar" in the parlor with them. They couldn't get enough of him.

Today, 25 years later, Smilin' Ed is still making his listeners feel as if he were right in their homes—spreading good cheer via CJCA at 4:30 Tuesdays and Thursdays.

THE ALBERTA STORY TELLER
Some years ago the University of Alberta took a major step forward in organizing the Department of Folk-Lore and Local History. They were fortunate in acquiring the services of Robert E. Gard, University of Wisconsin, as director.

During his three years in Alberta, Mr. Gard visited every corner of the Province, gathering material on Alberta's history—its folk-lore—yarns of old-new yarns, and the like. Before his departure six months ago, he wrote a book on his findings, titled "Johnny Chinook." His successor, Philip H. Godsell is continuing the good work.

Today their efforts are recognized through CJCA by way of a half-hour program each Wednesday evening at 9:00 o'clock.

Titled, "Alberta Story Teller," the program features Paul Guy, CJCA's veteran announcer, relating tales—folk tales and true tales—selected from "Johnny Chinook" and other compilations by Gard and Godsell.

COME UP AND SEE US SOME TIME

We have been sending out this invitation from Alberta for a long time now, and many of our friends south of the border have accepted our invitation—in spite of the uncomfortable, and sometimes hazardous condition of the roads we invite them to motor over. Thousands more would rather motor in comfort somewhere else than tackle our roads, no matter what scenery and hospitality we have to offer. And who can blame them?

We need good roads. We want good roads. Besides bringing millions of dollars in tourist trade to Alberta, they will encourage the free flow of business within the province for the benefit of all.

Do your part to promote good roads. Talk about them. Ask your provincial member for action on the $120,000,000 road-building program now under consideration by the government. Get behind the Alberta Motor Association in its campaign for a modern road system, by becoming a member.

A.M.A. membership costs only $10 a year, and it offers a host of services of value to every car owner. There are offices in Calgary, Edmonton and Lethbridge that will send you full information promptly on request.

VETERANS WITH TCA

More than 85 percent of the men and women employees of Trans-Canada Air Lines are former members of the armed services and the percentage will substantially increase during the present year, it is announced by W. F. English, vice president.

This is significant, because the national air lines has already exceeded ed the goal set by the major airlines of the United States who have pledged themselves, through Industry for Veterans, Inc., which organization is sponsoring the program, to have at least 25 percent of their employees composed of discharged personnel.

Through TCA's policy of employing ex-service men, more than one thousand of the airline's personnel have seen military service.

BATES SUGGESTS VD ATTACK
NEEDS CHANGE OF FRONT

There must be a change of front in the attack on venereal disease, says Dr. Gordon Bates in an editorial in the current issue of HEALTH, official publication of the Health League of Canada of which he is General Director.

"During the war the attack on venereal disease has been mainly a medical attack," writes Dr. Bates. "Tell the public about venereal diseases and provide treatment facilities—nothing else matters much. This has been the text followed in the main in most countries. Apparently it has not been sufficiently realized that the venereal diseases are the medical symptoms of a problem which is essentially social and moral. The present policy means that in the absence of social and moral deterrents, the easier cure becomes the more likely the patient is to go out and get infected again."

"It is an axiom of public health that to prevent the spread of communicable disease it is necessary to prevent the contact of infected with non-infected persons. This is true in the case of smallpox, diphtheria and tuberculosis. It is equally true with reference to the venereal diseases whether such action results from what is called preaching morality or not."

"Human beings are better than dogs and standards of conduct are essential if society is to remain civilized. Rational conduct as between the sexes will in itself prevent the spread of venereal disease."

"Moral conduct will prevent the spread of venereal disease—where people like the term morality or not."

Dr. Bates referred to the recent visit to Canada of four Russian doctors—specialists in dermatology and syphilis—and said they had revealed that prostitution had virtually disappeared in Russia and that at the beginning of the war it was difficult to find primary syphilitic sores to demonstrate to medical students. The visitors had stated that the main reason for these extraordinary developments was the improvement of women's economic position. They said that in Russia every woman has a job at pay equal to that of a man.

CAMPING IN WATERTON LAKES NATIONAL PARK

ularity, and a great many vacationists are now bringing with them their own camping equipment, or cabin trailer so that they will be assured of living accommodation during their sojourn in the park.

Many existing camping places in the national parks are already equipped with electric light, running water, kitchen and community shelters, tables, camp stoves, fuel and modern sanitary facilities. Usually these camping places are within reasonable distance of supplies.

One of the popular camping areas for Americans and Canadian tourists alike is in Waterton Lakes National Park, down in the southwest corner of Alberta where the foothills begin growing into lofty mountain peaks. This park, together with Glacier National Park lying just across the border in Montana, forms what is popularly known as the Waterton-Glacier International Peace Park.

The main camp ground in Waterton Lakes National Park is located on the Waterton townsite and covers an area of about thirty-five acres. It is traversed by Cameron Creek and is part of the alluvial "fan" on which the townsite is laid out. A very thin layer of top soil covers a deep bed of gravel, thus ensuring good drainage, and there are sufficient trees to provide shelter for the tents. On one occasion during the past summer 104 tents were counted on this camping ground, which is capable of accommodating more than twice that number in its present condition. It is equipped with kitchen and community shelters and has electrical outlets for the convenience of those bringing cabin trailers. A caretaker and a matron are on hand during the tourist season.

Due to its proximity to the business section of Waterton Park it is not usually necessary to organize entertainment for the campers, but at times the community building, which is equipped with an open fire-place, benches and tables, is used for singing, get-together parties, wicker games, and such like. Almost everything the camper may need during his stay at this camp ground is obtainable in the park, only a few minutes' walk from where he has pitched his tent. There are grocery stores (some of which sell fresh meat), a drug store, dry goods store, china shop, novelty shops, a hardware store, service stations and garages, a restaurant and an ice cream parlour ready and willing to supply the needs of visitors.

Another equipped camp ground is located a few hundred yards north of Cameron Lake. It has room for about ten tents and is used mostly by anglers taking advantage of the usually excellent fishing there. A small store and lunch counter some five hundred yards distant is available to campers. A caretaker looks after the camp grounds during July and August.

Still another camping place is located at the junction of Red Rock Canyon and Blackfoot. Brock, a favorite spot in the park. This camp ground has three kitchen shelters equipped with camp-stoves, and there is a matron in attendance during July and August.

It is considered that these three equipped camping grounds, with perhaps some minor improvements, are sufficient to take care of the present needs of campers visiting the park. Anyone planning to stay at these camp grounds next summer should come provided with tents, poles, bedding, blankets, ground sheet, cooking utensils, and the usual line of camping equipment. As the nights at this altitude (4,200 feet above sea level) are often quite chilly even in summer, it is advisable to bring along warm sleeping attire. If one has a genuine liking for camp life and comes properly equipped, a holiday under canvas in Waterton Lakes National Park will rank among one of the most interesting of life's pleasant experiences, besides providing an inexpensive form of travel education.

Waterton is one of the most colorful and charming of Canada's mountain playgrounds, rich in legend and historical interest, and is the home of many of the big game animals common to the Rocky Mountain region. Before the end of the last century Waterton Lakes had already become popular as a place to camp and fish—a fact which, no doubt, prompted the Government of Canada to set the area aside as a public possession in 1895. Like other national parks it now belongs to the people of Canada for their benefit and use, and its primitive beauty and the wonders of its landscape will be maintained for the enjoyment of future generations.
